SILLIMAN'S NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.—
We shall issue SATURDAY, Oct. 39, FIRST PRINCIPLES OF NATURAL PHILOSOPHY OR PHINSICS.
By Benj. Silliman, jr., M. A., M. D., Professor of Chemistry in Yale College.
I vol. large 12mo., 720 pages. Condously illustrated with over 675 wood cuts. Price, $41.50.

This work has been gregared with the greatest care for the use of Schoebs and Colleges. It is pluted in a compact and elegant manner, with two kinds of type, for the convenience of those who wish a more condensed summary. By omitting the fine type, about half the matter will remain in the large text embracing the laws and more important principles, but leaving out the illustrations, &c.
It is believed no other book prepared for this purpose is so old, clear, well influstrated and thoroughly brought down to the lativity dates as a safe, it will be found full in its details of principles and facts, and enriched with a profusion of the choicest and best wood engravings, a large number of which are paotographed from the author's apparatue, or original deepins. Many subjects treated very cursorily in books in common use, are here expanded to their just proportions, and a multitude of exant-plea are given of the practical applications of science in the arts of life. Reference to authort ea are not wanting where the teacher would naturally loss for them.

While the higher mathematics have been purposely omitted from the work, in view of its adaptation to a preparatory or under graduate course, the exceptial quality of a cursey in exact statements of law has been scrupolously observed, and where

While the higher multismatics have been purposely omitted from the work, in view of its adaptation to a preparatory or under graduate course, the essential quality of a curracy in exact statements of law has been scrappiously observed, and where fortoning are essential, they are not wanting.

Professors and Teachers cashing a copy of the work for examination, with a riese to its introduction into their institutions, will have a copy mailed them, preprid, upon receipt of $1 (in postage stamps, or otherwise). Special terms made for first introduction, upon application to the publishers.

The Grammar-School Geography may either follow the Intermediate Geography of the same author, or be used interested of it, as the second part of the same author, or be used interested of it, as the second part of the same author, or be used interested in the Intermediate and Grammar-School at that the latter, though no more elevated in style, is fuller in detail, presents a treater variety of map questions, and a larger number of localities to be nemotized. The original plan of the author, which has not with the almost manimous approval of educators, and has, increased in the interpretation of the school of the preferred by those who wish a summary of the school covering leading localities, and sufficient for severy want. The Intermediate will be used by those who wish a summary of the school occupance of the school of the preferred by those who wish to go more minutely into the subject, embracing as it does a comprehensive, thorough, and systematic course, setting for the less prominent as well as the more important localities on the earth's surface, and exercising the structent in their artificial pholosophical in their artificial course, setting for the less prominent as well as the more important localities on the earth's surface, and exercising the structent in their statements, junctiously adapted to the school-room, chately and savishy insustrated, highly attractive in their external appearance, and, generally, just what the intelligent teacher desires.

CASES AND CURRY.

DYSPEPSIA.

A young lady of 26 had been troubled with indigestion for several months, so as to render great care necessary in the selection of her food. After eating, the stomach became said, food tieing in her mouth with water, and an unpleasant, heavy, loadlike sensation in her stomach, continuing for some hourg, frequent headaches, bowels constipated, and a depressed mental condition. Sinc commenced taking the Dyspepsia Pills, one morning and night, and in less than a week aimost every symptom of her disease had vanished, and she felt like a new being.

proved in fiesh and vicer and was soons assume that, no other medicine.

COUGH AND BRONCHITIS.

A young gentleman of 22 had suffered from a cough and pain in the chest for some months, until his friends became seriously alarmed for his safety. His cough was frequent, hard and dry, with some housewas and pain in the chest.

The COUGH PILLS, taken one three times per day, entirely relieved and cured him in the course of three weeks.

PILES.

The COUGH PILLS, taken one three times per day, entirely relieved and cured him in the course of three weeks.

A clerzyman of the Baptist Church, well known in Hillinois, writing to us, says: "I have been for some time seriously afficied with bleeding piles, and have regarded my case as a tender of the course one—at one time, indees, hopeless; but I have need your medicine (Pile Specific), and am oursel. I have no doubt you are laying the world under great and fasting obligation."

A periteman of fifty years, well and favorably known at Delhi, Delaware County, N. Y., had been a martyr to the Piles for twenty years. Sometimes, from excessive hemorrhage, pain, and sofficting, he was reduced to the verge of the grave. For years he had dragged out a miserable existence, a confirmed invalid, disqualified for any besiness, and life samuet a burden. It is needless to add that he had tried all sorts of remedies, from all sorts of doctors, to little purpose. He consulted mot very eyer say, and I recommended our Pile Specificit, with occasionally a DYSPEPSIA PILL. From this he began to improve, and since has never had a serious turn of piles. From the first month up to a year past, he had occasionally symptoms of his old complaint, but a few doess of the Pile Files would disprese it all, and for more than a year past he has been entirely well of the piles. A more brilliant cure is scarcely to be found in the annals of medicine.

No family should be without these invaluable curatives. They are the only remedies perfectly sciapted for domestic and private use. With them the parent is armed and prepared against the first approach of disease, and can meet it at the threshold and keep it at bay. A trifle of medicine rightly directed in the first hours of disease, perfectly cares that which by delay can only be relieved by long and tedious hours of suffering, if at all, with these at hand, you are not obliged to await the doming of that often distant as well as expensive luxury, a doctor; nor to be drugged or poisoned or bilistered or bled, but may yourself administer the simple specific, and restore the ruddy current of life again to health and joy. There can not only no injury arise

At the advice of his friends he went to the seaside, but found the sait air very much increased his cough.
